A Few Table Don'ts.

Here are a few valuable "don'ts" for the table:

When your hostess hands you a plate, don't offer to pass it on to another person. Take what your hostess intended for you.

And when you have your food, don't hesitate about beginning to eat. Old-fashioned people wait until all are served before eating, but it isn't strictly correct to do this. Of course, if you happen to be one of a home party, where you are passing vegetables to others, you would naturally see that you had done your part before beginning to enjoy your share of the meal.

Don't take a second helping of soup or fish if you are going through a meal of several courses.

Never cut your bread. It should be broken on the cloth, or the plate that may be provided, and broken without raising it from the table.

Don't shake salt over your food. Salt and mustard should be placed on the side of the plate.

For the sake of your neighbors don't stick out your elbows when dining. People who have acquired this very bad habit should practice until they —find another angle. When manipulating food on the plate use the hands from the wrist, not from the elbows.

In Shakespeare, 30 Letters.

It is rather remarkable, as Miss Ellen Terry pointed out in her address at His Majesty's theater recently, that, despite the multitude of books which have been published about Shakespeare's plays, little attention has been given to the letters therein, the London Chronicle observes.

They number thirty in all, but easily escape attention. In fact, when Miss Terry asked three friends what they knew of the subject, two of them could not recall any letters at all, while the knowledge of the third does not extend beyond the letters occurring in the "Merry Wives of Windsor" and "The Merchant of Venice." These are letters made familiar through the medium of the theaters.

No single one of Shakespeare's letters, written as a man and not as a playwright, has survived, but those in the plays were, like the plays, perfect. They always fell naturally into the story. In the ordinary play letters are usually employed to give a clumsy explanation from the dramatist because he has not the skill to do it in any other way.

CALOMEL SELDOM SOLD HERE NOW

Nasty drug salivates, makes you sick and you lose a day's work.

Every druggist in town—your druggist and everybody's druggist has noticed a great falling-off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason. Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place.

"Calomel is dangerous and people know it, while Dodson's Liver Tone is perfectly safe and gives better results," said a prominent local druggist. Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by every druggist who sells it. A large bottle costs 50 cents, and if it fails to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness and constipation, you have only to ask for your money back.

Dodson's Liver Tone is a pleasant-tasting, purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults. Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't gripe or cause inconvenience all the next day like violent calomel. Take a dose of calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak, sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day's work! Take Dodson's Liver Tone instead and feel fine, full of vigor and ambition.—Adv.

HAS EARNED ITS POPULARITY

Turkey Welcomed in Every Country Where the People Appreciate Good Things to Eat.

In every corner of the globe almost, at least where civilization has spread its epicurean tastes, may be found the domesticated turkey—not, however, of his own volition. Never would he, in his wild state, have sought to cross the stormy seas to find green fields and pastures new.

He is not so constructed. He is not bold or adventurous of disposition. On the contrary, he is timid and much afraid of things he does not understand, and when undisturbed is prone to let well enough alone and get along with his accustomed feeding grounds.

Again, as a flier the turkey is not a pronounced success. He flies ponderously, almost painfully, and with great effort and only when much frightened. His flight can be sustained for only a short distance, but what the wild turkey lacks as an aviator he fully makes up as a sprinter.

He can outrun a race horse, especially in his own native forest, where undergrowth and bushes seem but to add to his speed. But he could not have flown over the ocean even if he had had that unnatural desire.

He was taken over by the hand of man, first to Spain, then to other Mediterranean countries, to northern Europe, to the far East, until now he is well-nigh omnipresent. And this spreading out of his kind even unto the ends of the earth is all due to the entrancing qualities his meat takes on when properly baked or roasted.

Manhattan Is Flat-Footed.

Little old Manhattan is flat-footed, wears poor shoes and stands up at its work, according to figures compiled by Capt. Frank E. Evans of the recruiting office of the United States Marine corps. Captain Evans is authority for the statement that approximately 18 per cent of all applicants who applied for enlistment in the marine corps at its Twenty-third street office during the past year, were rejected for "pes planus," or flat-foot. He puts the blame on the cheaply constructed, poorly made shoes the average toiler wears at his work for the epidemic of falling arch, and on the fact that the majority of victims claimed they were forced to stand on their feet for long stretches while at their employment.

Motormen, conductors, subway guards, policemen, machinists, waiters and clerks are the principal sufferers from "pes planus," Captain Evans says.—New York Times.

Care of Goldfish.

A globe of two or three goldfish with a bit of green seaweed makes a pretty centerpiece, and they are inexpensive and easily cared for. They should be placed at some distance from stove and register and not in the rays of the sun. They endure extremes of cold rather than heat. In the bottom of the globe place some small stones, a bit of sand, a little charcoal and a spray of cabomba, a fine water plant. Feed them a little at a time. Once in two weeks remove them to a pail of muddy water for an hour, clean the globe, replace the shells, stones, etc., and refill with clear, cold water.

Fore sore feet rub on Hanford's Balsam. Adv.

Army of Monaco Dissolved.

The army of Monaco, though small, was resplendent during peace times, but now that war is under way it has been dissolved because the professional soldiers who composed it have all been called home and are fighting under the French or Italian colors, as the case may be, or drawn up in the Swiss contingents guarding the frontier.

Ideals Make Possible Big Accomplishments of Life

By NELLIE R. UMSTOTT

Along life's way we often meet those who betray the fact that they doubt the practicability and value of ideals, but if, as such men believe, ideals are nothing but dreams, rosy and beautiful, yet perishable, why do men achieve great things in the face of every obstacle placed in their pathway? Is it not because they had an ideal and clung to it until it was realized?

Ideals, to be worth anything, must be made practical, and making them practical is the test of manhood.

Had our beloved poet, Longfellow, said, "Ideals are mere dreams; we are but common clay, filled with besetting sins, born to meet temptation on every hand and fall," would he have had the courage to write his immortal poems by which so many men have been inspired and strengthened? He is only one of many.

If we have an ideal, be it of manhood or womanhood, let us cling to it with might and main and make it a part of our lives. Then, perchance, some day someone, if only one, may strive to reach our ideal because he loves us.

Just as "thoughts are things," ideals are realities and we are the weavers.

A FEW SMILES

Blissful Ignorance.

"Do you know how many miles an hour your car is capable of making?"

"No," answered the cautious motorist. "You see, I have never been in such a hurry to reach a certain destination that I was willing to risk breaking my neck trying to get there."

Like Reading a Book.

"Women patronize moving pictures in large numbers."

"How do you account for that?"

"Maybe it's because the silent drama offers superior advantages over the spoken play, from the feminine point of view."

"In what particular?"

"By coming in at the proper moment a woman can learn how a photoplay ends and she can then settle back comfortably to see all the episodes when the film is reversed."

Unappreciative Parent.

"Old Mr. Cobbles has a son who has taken several degrees at college."

"I notice he loafs around home all the time and never does a stroke of work."

"Yes. Another degree was recently conferred on him by Mr. Cobbles, the degree of 'N, W. K.'"

"What does that mean?"

"Not worth killing."

Accomplishment Worth While.

"Making much progress with your garden, Dubwaite?"

"You will be surprised to hear what I have accomplished."

"You work it every day, I presume?"

"No. I've succeeded in persuading my wife to work it."

A Rash Promise.

"Here's an attractive advertisement for summer boarders."

"What does it say?"

"'Act as if you owned the earth at our place and we'll act as if we were going to give it to you.'"

That Elusive Vote.

"No matter how insignificant a man may be, he always feels important on election day."

"Yes. That's due to the power of the ballot. Election day is the only day in the year when some men possess anything that anybody else would go out of his way to get."

A Cogent Plea.

"Mister, would you be willin' to help a war victim?"

"Of course I would."

"Then you ought to be willin' to give me a dime. You know they say charity begins at home."

Artificial Blood Latest.

Blood infusion will no longer require the sacrifice of blood from one person to save the life of another, if an invention of a New York physician meets the claims now being made for it. It is a formula for artificial blood which closely approximates the characteristics of real blood. It is composed chiefly of gelatin solution, sodium chloride and distilled water. The danger from hemorrhage is due not so much to the loss of the actual corpuscles in the blood as to the loss of volume. A number of experiments with this new formula indicate that it will serve as a substitute for human blood, at least in many cases.

MOTHER'S COOK BOOK

Washington Omelet.

Soak a cupful of breadcrumbs in a cupful of hot milk. Beat six egg yolks and add to the crumbs with salt and pepper. Fold in the beaten whites of the eggs and bake in a thickly buttered pan in a rather hot oven for 15 minutes. This is very good served with a garnish of green peas or tomato sauce.

Apple Salad.

Take equal parts of diced apple, celery and a few blanched walnuts, mix with enough mayonnaise to moisten well and add one tablespoonful of horseradish to each pint of salad. Diced pineapple may be used instead of the nuts, making a pleasant variety.

Spinach.

This is one of the valuable vegetables which supply us with iron. Wash it carefully and put it to cook with no water but that which clings to the leaves. Cover at first until its own juice flows, then open and boil till tender, watching it carefully and turning it to keep it from scorching. Chop very fine and serve with hard-cooked eggs as a garnish, or simply with vinegar and a seasoning of salt, pepper and butter.

Whole-Wheat Pudding.

Take two cupfuls of whole-wheat flour, a half teaspoonful of soda, a cupful of milk, a half teaspoonful of salt, a cupful of dates and a half cupful of molasses, beat well, and steam 2½ hours in a buttered mold. If thick sour milk is used, add a teaspoonful of soda. Serve with whipped cream, plain cream or any preferred liquid sauce.

Rhubarb and Raisin Pudding.

Here is one you can give the children: Take a pint of rhubarb cut in half-inch pieces, sprinkled with a cupful of sugar. Let stand an hour or more. Toss a pint of breadcrumbs into three tablespoonfuls of melted butter. Put in layers into a baking dish, sprinkling a cupful of raisins in between, having the crumbs on top. Cover closely the first half hour and bake one hour. Serve with a sauce or with beaten cream.

Bread spread with butter and the rhubarb and raisins put over it in layers is another splendid pudding, also baked.

Bananas baked with butter, sugar and lemon juice for a sauce are delicious served with beefsteak.

IF YOU SUFFER FROM BACKACHE, LUMBAGO, KIDNEYS OR RHEUMATISM, TAKE HOT WATER AND "ANURIC"

American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead, when your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night, when you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your druggist—"ANURIC." Because of uric acid in over-abundance in the system, backache, pains here and there, rheumatism, gout, gravel, neuralgia and sciatica result. It was Dr. Pierce who discovered a new agent, called "Anuric" which will throw out and eradicate this uric acid from the system. Dr. Pierce believes "Anuric" to be 37 times more potent than lithia, and consequently you need no longr fear muscular or articular rheumatism or gout, or many other diseases which are dependent on an accumulation of uric acid within the body. Send Dr. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., 10c. for trial package or $1.00 for full treatment "Anuric."

Dr. Pierce's reputation is back of this medicine and you know that his "Pleasant Pellets" for the liver and his "Favorite Prescription" for the ills of women have had a splendid reputation for the past 50 years.

ESTIMATING AGE OF EARTH

Geologists Have Differed Greatly as to the Time It Has Been in Existence.

As long ago as 1860 John Phillips, the geologist, estimated that the time required for the deposition of the stratified rocks lay between 38,000,000 and 96,000,000 years. This was probably the only estimate prior to Kelvin's epoch-making paper of 1862. Since that time many estimates have been made, varying all the way from 17,000,000 years to 400,000,000 years. Kelvin was the first to discuss the age of the earth considered as a cooling body. In 1893 Clarence King introduced the important criterion of tidal stability and reached the conclusion that 24,000,000 represented the conditions. This result was adopted by Kelvin in 1897, and then he placed the limits as 20,000,000 and 40,000,000 years. Only Sir George Darwin has discussed the age of the earth from a purely astronomical point of view. From his theory of the earth-moon system he derived an estimate of more than 56,000,000 years, which for a long time stood between groups of higher and lower figures. J. Joly was the first to base estimates of the age of the earth, in 1899, on the sodium contained in the ocean. Adopting the hypothesis that the sodium content of the ocean is derived at a constant rate from that of the rocks, he arrived at an age of 80,000,000 or 90,000,000 years, and increased this by 10,000,000 in 1900. In 1909 Mr. Sollas made a searching inquiry into this subject and placed the age of the ocean at between 80,000,000 and 150,000,000 years.

Food Troubles in Paris.

After having tried, luckily without success, to interfere with the sale of bread and wine, our excellent deputies now ask us to adapt our stomachs to the use of dog grease instead of butter, remarks the Cri de Paris. Certain interests have appeared to propose, in effect, a law "to facilitate the sale of margarine and oleomargarine, products of which the qualities nearly approach those of butter," in the same localities where butter is made and sold. These deputies are full of good intentions, but their ignorance fully equals their good will. In principle, the name of margarine should be butter by color, consistence, odor and taste. But in practice it is quite different. The word "margarine" has become a term that is applied to all fats of vegetable or animal origin. When there is a superabundance in time of peace some fine soaps are made with margarine obtained from the cadavers of animals that have perished. But are we to be obliged to eat it in time of war?

"'Sure I do!' the man replied. 'Clubs, sandbags, flatirons, any old thing.'"

OF HISTORIC INTEREST

TOWN OF GORIZIA RESTING PLACE OF ROYALTY.

Among Many Others, It Contains the Tombs of Charles X and "Henry V" of France—Known as "Austrian Nice."

Mentioned almost daily in the war dispatches from the Italo-Austrian front, the little town of Gorizia has gained considerable prominence of late.

Besides being the center of important military operations, Gorizia is of interest because of its historic associations. Lying between Venice and Trieste, not far from the Adriatic, Gorizia has a population of about 20,000.

The town has been an Austrian possession for more than five centuries, and its pleasant climate has earned it the name of "the Austrian Nice."

In the outskirts on a hill is a Franciscan monastery, the road to which is marked by the 14-station way of the cross. From the esplanade in front of the monastery church an extensive view of the surrounding country is obtained.

Below spreads the town, with the ancient chateau of the counts of Gorizia and the Villa Boeckmann, once the winter residence of the count de Chambord, towering over the less pretentious houses. A little further off one can trace the capricious course of the Isonzo river, the bed of which is said to the the burial place of Atilla, the Hun chieftain.

In the distance lies the Carso limestone plateau, sheltering the magnificent castles of Duino, belonging to the house of Hohenlowe, and Miramar, which used to be the favorite residence of Archduke Maximilian, later emperor of Mexico.

The horizon is bounded by Trieste, a chain of snow-covered Alp peaks, the Venetian plain and the Adriatic.

In the little chapel of St. Louis, in the right wing of the Franciscan church, the bodies of King Charles X of France, the duke and duchess d'Angouleme and the duchess of Parma had their resting place until 1883, when they were removed to a large vault under the high altar.

In this vault there are six sarcophagi, three on each side of a marble crucifix, raised on a high pedestal. Charles X has the duke d'Angouleme on his right and the duchess [illegible] his left.

In the other group the sarcophagus of King Henry V (the count de Chambord) has been placed between those of the countess de Chambord and the duchess of Parma.

On a black marble slab behind the sarcophagus of the count de [illegible] bord is the following in[illegible] "Here rests the high bo[illegible] excellent Prince Henry [illegible] name, by the grace o[illegible] France and Navarre. [illegible] September 29, 1820. [illegible] dorf August 24, 1883."

School Site Selected

The mass meeting Saturday afternoon to consider the location of the new grammar school, coming in the busy fruit time, was not so well attended as it otherwise would have been.

Those present thoroly canvassed the situation and arrived at a decision which accords with the views of many who were unable to be present.

The site selected was the southeast corner facing Rincon avenue. For many reasons this seems the best place, chief among them being that all rooms will have sunshine part of the day. It will be possible to save the major part of the beautiful shade trees, and takes the children further from the Santa Clara-Los Gatos Road, which is a constant danger.

Another advantage will be that the old building can be used until the new building is ready and later can either be converted into quarters suitable for other lines of school work or disposed of to better advantage than possible in a hurried sale.

The trustees will now feel that they will be working in accordance with the wishes of the voters and every one will gladly watch further developments.

Drop One

Campbell "Athletics" played Mayfield at Mayfield last Sunday losing by the close margin of 2-0.

Taylor pitched a fine game for our boys, but the breaks were in favor of the enemy. McKenzie played in his old time style, hitting for three out of the four hits made by our club and stealing 2 bases. Rube Gardner also displayed considerable speed.

The boys will either play San Juan or the Santa Clara Sodality at Santa Clara next Sunday at 2:30 p. m.

TWENTY-TWO TODAY! Our birthday or mile-post, officially, according to the regular issue as required by Uncle Sam. Twenty-two long years of ups and downs on a rough and rugged road with many and diverse guides to the editorial pen. During this creature's career, it has been our fortune to control its policy and opinions about four years and we have managed thus far to come up smiling. Judging by hearsays that are dropped occasionally, it occurs to us that we are enjoying as much prosperity, good will and — climate as any who have gone this way before and we enjoy the feeling of such an idea. The friends we have,- and we have some friends,- we will try to hold, and will endeavor to increase the circle. For our mistakes, forgive and bear with us, we are but human. For the good we do,- well, we are still human. Thank you.

Graduated in East

Announcements have been received in St. Paul of the commencement exercises at Mount Holyoke college. Among those graduating with high honors is Miss Helen Paschall of West Grove, Pa., formerly of St. Paul, and a member of the 1911 class at Central high school. The engagement has been announced of Miss Paschall to Dr. Lawrence Clayton Moore of Chatham, Pa. The wedding will take place in September.

Miss Paschall is a grand-daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Merrill and attended the Campbell Grammar school one year, while a small girl. Mr. and Mrs. Merrill are naturally proud of the achievements of this young lady.

Busy Season Begun

The J. C. Ainsley Pkg. Co. and the G. E. Hyde & Co. plants are both in operation, beginning last week. Apricots ripened more rapidly than was expected and work began about a week earlier than was anticipated. So far both have had practically no night work, being able to care for the fruit without.

No record runs will probably be made this season, at least in 'cots as the crop is not very heavy but a fair season is anticipated, giving employment to all the local workers, and some non-residents. Everything settled into regular routine with very little trouble as there were not many new hands to break in, and work is progressing well.

Optimistic.

Hall—Blythe is a pretty optimistic character I hear. Well—I should say so! If he failed in business he'd thank heaven he had his health; if he failed in health he'd be glad he had his business, and if he failed in both he'd say there was no use having one without the other.—London Telegraph.

Federal Inquiry or Railroad Strike?

Faced by demands from the conductors, engineers, firemen and brakemen that would impose on the country an additional burden in transportation costs of $100,000,000 a year, the railroads propose that this wage problem be settled by reference to an impartial Federal tribunal.

With these employes, whose efficient service is acknowledged, the railroads have no differences that could not be considered fairly and decided justly by such a public body.

Railroads Urge Public Inquiry and Arbitration

The formal proposal of the railroads to the employes for the settlement of the controversy is as follows:

"Our conferences have demonstrated that we cannot harmonize our differences of opinion and that eventually the matters in controversy must be passed upon by other and disinterested agencies. Therefore, we propose that your proposals and the proposition of the railways be disposed of by one or the other of the following methods:

1. Preferably by submission to the Interstate Commerce Commission, the only tribunal which, by reason of its accumulated information bearing on railway conditions and its control of the revenue of the railways, is in a position to consider and protect the rights and equities of all the interests affected, and to provide additional revenue necessary to meet the added cost of operation in case your proposals are found by the Commission to be just and reasonable; or, in the event the Interstate Commerce Commission cannot, under existing laws, act in the premises, that we jointly request Congress to take such action as may be necessary to enable the Commission to consider and promptly dispose of the questions involved; or
2. By arbitration in accordance with the provisions of the Federal law" (The Newlands Act).

Leaders Refuse Offer and Take Strike Vote

Leaders of the train service brotherhoods, at the joint conference held in New York, June 1-15, refused the offer of the railroads to submit the issue to arbitration of Federal review, and the employes are now voting on the question whether ...rity shall be given these leaders to declare a nation-wide strike.

...he Interstate Commerce Commission is proposed by the railroads as the ...dy to which this issue ought to be referred for these reasons:

...ther body with such an intimate knowledge ...d conditions has such an unquestioned posi... public confidence.

...rates the railroads may charge the public for ...tation are now largely fixed by this Govern... ...ard.

... every dollar received by the railroads from ...e nearly one-half is paid directly to the employes as wages; and the money to pay increased wages can come from no other source than the rates paid by the public.

The Interstate Commerce Commission, with its control over rates, is in a position to make a complete investigation and render such decision as would protect the interests of the railroad employes, the owners of the railroads, and the public.

A Question For the Public to Decide

...he railroads feel that they have no right to grant a wage preferment of ...0,000 a year to these employes, now highly paid and constituting only ...h of all the employes, without a clear mandate from a public tribunal that ...etermine the merits of the case after a review of all the facts.

...The single issue before the country is whether this controversy is to be settled by an ...ial Government inquiry or by industrial warfare.
